Almost 50 years ago,
Echoing Hills Village began ministering to “the least of these.”

To us, the “least of these” were people with disabilities. People who had difficulty walking, talking or feeding themselves, who were sight impaired, hearing impaired or had difficulty learning. All were marginalized by society, hidden in back rooms, large institutions or simply ignored as if they did not exist. They are God’s creation, people He loved and cared for - not just during his 33 years of life on this earth - but for eternity, and they are people he has called us to serve.

For the hungry, we have provided 49 years of wholesome and healthy meals. For the thirsty, we have ensured clean, clear water for drinking. For the homeless, we’ve built a place to belong and a bed to sleep in. For the naked, we’ve supplied clothing and dignity. For the sick, we have pioneered new treatment and offered comfort. For the prisoner, we have provided freedom from shame and stigma, bringing them into the open.

But more important than all of these earthly necessities, we have brought a message of salvation and eternal life - a place where God Himself will wipe away every tear, from hunger, sickness, loneliness, pain, rejection, or embarrassment, and will welcome all of us into our eternal homes with Him.

We are excited to celebrate another year of serving “the least of these” and we celebrate all of those who have helped to make it possible.

Buddy Beach

I was hungry...

I was thirsty...

I was a stranger...

I needed clothes...

I was sick...

I was in prison...

... and you gave me something to eat.

...and you gave me something to drink.

...and you invited me in.

...and you clothed me.

...and you looked after me.

...and you came to visit me.

Matthew 25:34-35

Individuals at Echoing Hills Residential Center like to DIY their dinners. Two of their favorite meals are "design your own pizza night" and "baked potato with all the fixings." In 2015, Echoing Hills Residential Center employees made and served over 9,125 plates of dinner, not counting seconds!

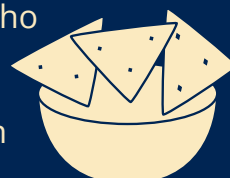

Grilling out is an important Camp Echoing Hills tradition, building community by eating and fellowshiping together as a family!

CELEBRATED

Birthdays at Echoing Hills Village are a reason to celebrate! Though everyone does their parties a little differently, the individuals who live at our residential centers can plan to receive lots of extra attention on their special day! Many individuals invite friends to go out to eat while others treasure the time at home with a special homemade meal and cake. No matter how the individuals choose to celebrate, staff work hard to ensure that the day is safe, fun and memorable.

The individuals who live at Star Home in Lorain County planted their own vegetable garden this year. They used the vegetables they grew in all their recipes, especially salsa!

Students who attend echoingU Canton enjoy cooking class as one of their elective options. Here students work on making no bake cookies, learning the kitchen safety skills they will need to live independently while enjoying a delicious treat!

FRESH WATER

Faithful donors brought forth streams of fresh, clean water in Ghana by providing the funding to connect our Accra campus to the national main water supply line.

35

For nearly 50 years, Camp Echoing Hills has been welcoming adults and children with disabilities to our Warsaw campus for a week of fun and life-changing experiences. This year, we welcomed over 300 campers, including 35 first-time campers.

WELCOME HOME

Late in 2015, 12 individuals with disabilities moved from the large Echoing Ridge Residential facility into two small community homes in Summit County. Pictured above, the group enjoys a movie night in their new home.

Individuals who live at Echoing Valley Residential Center made new friends in 2015 when the construction of a walkway brought crews to work on the Memorial Garden. The worksite became a popular location for individuals to sit and watch the project from beginning to end. Some of the individuals made friends with the crew as they sat outside. The project has since been completed, making the garden accessible for all!

UP AND DOWN

The van lifts at echoingCONNECTIONS get a major workout every year, going up and down four times a day for every wheelchair, an astounding 43,200 operations during 2015!

In 2015, the hardworking individuals who attend echoingCONNECTIONS of Coshocton County created over 150 unique, customized wreaths and sold 120 of their creations.

As part of their laundry program, 20 individuals at Echoing Ridge Residential Center wash, dry and fold their own clothes, promoting both personal independence and responsibility.

Employees at echoingCONNECTIONS of Montgomery County have donated coats, belts and other clothing to the program as a backup to have during the day in case of emergencies, ensuring that everyone has something clean and comfortable to wear.

PROM 2015

During 2015, one of the young women from Echoing Meadows Residential Center had the opportunity to attend prom. One of our employees, Ramona, was able to hem and alter the dress to make sure she felt beautiful on her big night!

In 2015, the individuals who live in Dayton at Echoing Woods Residential Center did a lot of laundry! They used 108 pounds of Laundry soap to complete around 67,340 loads of laundry.

The staff at Echoing Ridge Residential Center take care of the individuals who live there, both by dispensing medication (403 Pills a day) and also by setting and keeping their medical appointments (over 350 per year), working hard to keep everyone healthy!

Staff and individuals at echoingCONNECTIONS of Athens County made great strides this year! As part of their challenge to stroll around the state, they took over 2,000,000 steps in September and October!

Camp Echoing Hills traveled to Nashville and toured both the Grand Ole Opry and Graceland. For our campers, this is an opportunity to travel with dignity and explore the world around them.

echoingU Dayton students enjoy visiting Hearth and Home, a retirement community in Vandalia, Ohio as part of their community exploration and volunteering. They help by decorating for the holidays, assisting with activities and socializing with residents.
